

3. Behavioural research must lose touch with reality.

The heart of behavioural inquiry is abstraction and analysis and this serve to conceal the brute realities of politics.

4. Research about and constructive development of values are extinguishable parts of the study of politics.

<5> The intellectuals historical role has been and must be to protect the human values of civilization to put his knowledge to work.

6. The intellectual as scientist bears the special obligation to put his knowledge to work.

7. If the intellectual has the obligation to implement his knowledge, those organizations composed of intellectuals and the universities themselves, cannot stand apart from the struggles of the day.

According to David Easton - "It does not seek to return to golden age of political research or to conserve or even to destroy a particular methodological approach. It seeks rather to propel political science in a new tradition."

MARXIST APPROACH:

- * Karl Marx and Engels wrote about the class approach of Marxism approach.
- * It is known as Marxist Leninist approach because it was explained and further used for the first time by Lenin.
- * History is determin